Ever wonder what the folks at PETA thought about Bea's posing in leather for "TV Guide"? The March 7th edition of the "New York Post" has the answer.

Yes! That is so exciting...I'm trying to work it so I can be over there for the show somewhere between June 5th and 14th.

We'll see!! =)

For those of you who are wondering about Bea's arrival time at the Booth, here it is:

When I met and spoke with her she arrived via limo to the Booth Theater, the car pulled right into Shubert alley. She enters the stage door just to the right of the gift shop. Arrival time is around 7-7:15pm She was pleasant, i assisted her with some confusion. She was her usual Bea self.

The show is really spectacular! I highly recomend it, there is nothing like the roar of a New York audience that Bea responds to so well. Its wonderful to have Bea in New York. She is still showing up at all the A list events looking as glamorous as ever. The city loves her!

Can you stand to read another review? This one's from AisleSay, and it takes a look at four solo shows, including Bea's.

Hey, I just read this snippet on the New York Observer. The article is talking about a land auction in East Hampton...thought it was interesting.

"The Springs district is known among celebrities, especially stage actors, as a quiet nook of the Hamptons; it's where Bea Arthur's husband, Robert Arthur, built a baseball diamond on his property and started the first Artists and Writers softball game. Said local broker Sandra Phillips Flax of East Hampton Village Realty, "It's kind of an area where people who know who they are and don't have false ideas and are not nouveau riche" end up. Terence Stamp, Mercedes Ruehl and authors Linda LaPlante and Chico Hamilton all have houses in the area and may be interested to find out what the new owner plans to do with the place. But he's not speaking."

Hey everyone I just got home a little while ago and went to the mailbox in the dark lol to check the mail from today. I am so glad I didn't wait till tomorrow for I found another letter from Ms. Betty White. Lol that woman is spoiling me, and so now I want more. I am so happy about my letters and pictures from her, and the pic and letter from Mrs. Rue. Wow this computer has gotten me in touch with such wonderful and famous people. I found the girls home address the first time I got online but it did take awhile for I didn't know any websites or anything, lol. Well I have a strawberry daguarit in the freezer for tomorrow it's going to taste so good. Lol I think that is the wrong spelling. So now all I need is something from Ms. Bea but she's so busy but hey I am patient. Bye all and goodnight. Wish me luck for Sunday I will be playing a song for the first time in a crowd with my dulicmer.

Well see there's a story behind it lol and I will be glad to tell you about it. See I wrote to Ms. Betty again and I was telling her about my experience with lizards. I have always had them to let me hold them and one time I had four in my room of all sizes and they just stay there. Lol but that was years ago about in 99. Well recently I had one come to my room in which it has been along time since I one has done this. He stayed for about 2 weeks and I still had him when I wrote her but sorry to say he hasn't come back yet. I imagine he died for they don't live that long. I also sent her another bracelet and this one has bears on it. I like collecting bears not the stuff kind, lol I use to but to old ofr that now so I just gave them away. I now just have like ceramic, hard clay type of all different kinds. I have one that is of a bear picking flowers another the boy bear has a toothbrush and a tube of paste, I just got so many and with my little room I am hiding so for all the stuff I have recieved from bets. Well the letter she wrote says, Dear Rebecca, The bracelet is just adorable and I thank you so much. Aren't bears just the greatest. Hope all is well, and say hi to your lizard for me- Thanks again Betty. The other one was even longer
 I am just thankful that she takes the time to send me pictures and especially write a letter. Well bye for now, Rebecca Yeah, the Urkel dance is great. It's been up for some time though.

I am so excited about "The Daily Show"!!! I always had a feeling Bea would be on that show eventually....considering she is a fan and she finds Jon Stewart sexy!!

Hey all,

Just received my Entertainment Weekly -- and on the same page as the "hotsheet", there's a funny piece on that "Celebrity Boxing" thing...well, they list some future contenders...one of the pairs is none other than our Bea and Elaine Stritch!! It's very cute - and the photo of Bea is great!

For all those Bea fans in New York...I just read that "Forbidden Broadway" - Gerard Alessandrini's Broadway Parody (now in its 20th year!) - has Bea Arthur and Elaine Stritch dueting!!

Sounds like fun - it's at the Douglas Fairbanks Theatre on 42nd Street.

Thought I'd run out of reviews to post, didn't ya? Ha! To tell the truth, I thought I probably wasn't going to turn up any more. But, lo and behold, LGNY.com has finally updated their site and put up a review of Bea's show.

<http://www.lgny.com/0179web/ByrneTheater179.html>

FYI: "60 Minutes" is slated to air a story on Elaine Stritch tonight.

I love the Bea sound bite you added! I thought my computer was doing something funny at first (because I have that wav saved on my hard drive as well..) but I kept opening up the home page enough times to realize it is deliberate :)

Very nice!
