pussycat0000...

Unfortunately, I missed Carol as well.

And Lucy? Like so many others, I L0000000VE LUCY!!! She was a genius. There are some who will laugh at this but I personally think Lucy and Bea were fabulous together in Mame and I thoroughly enjoy the movie. I love them both. And this is how much I Love Lucy..... For my 21st birthday this month, my mom is buying me ALL the episodes of "Life With Lucy". It was Lucy's very last show and an extremely scarce find! I was lucky enough to find them on eBay and I CANNOT WAIT to see them! The show was a flop and the network eventually cancelled it but I don't care. I still love Lucy!

Take care everybody!

Jessica,

You lucky dog, I would kill to get Life with Lucy!!!!!! Well, maybe not kill, but cause serious bodily harm. I, too, loved Mame, with Lucy and Bea. Ofcourse you know how much I love Lucy, thanks again, ever so much for the show with her and Talullah, one of my favorites.

This past April, Lucie Arnez was a key note speaker at a conference that my aunt and cousin went to in Mississippi. A lot of people came dressed as Lucy thinking that it would be nice for Lucie to see how many fans of her mom's were there. Well Lucie ended up totally trashing lucy and alot of people got up and left. Ofcourse, my aunt told me that Lucie was really crude and rude. Oh well, lucy is still the tops.

Firstly, thanks to Kev for telling me about this group... look forward to talking to some of you soon!

And secondly... more obviously... BEA RULES! I've only seen Bea in the Golden Girls because as far as I know, Maude hasn't been run over here in the UK, certainly not in the past few years.

Kev, you're so lucky to have met her!

Our wish is finally being granted: Bea is getting her own "Intimate Portrait." According to the "Cambridge Newszap!," production is underway on the documentary, which will include Bea's reminiscences of her early life in Cambridge, Maryland.

For the time being, you can read more at this URL (Warning: if you don't get to it soon, the article about Bea could be replaced by something else).

Hey Ironicwit and all...

Well I guess I can break my silence too about this :) I have been in touch with the same contact person as they have from the article. I asked if I could tell everyone (on here and my website) but have been waiting for clearance from the producers... and now I see the story is broke... so there goes my thunder :)

Anyway, from the details that I have been told, it's going to be a show that we have been waiting for all this time. From the people that were interviewed, I thought it was still funny that Betty White was not included. Maybe that will be changed, but so far she hasn't been interviewed for the show.

No air date has been set as of yet. Hopefully, I will get that information soon.

I would have to say that this is the most exciting news since hearing that Bea was going on stage last year!

So, being that someone else broke the story, I will be posting all information here that I learn. It has been a lot of fun so far...

So far I've learned...

Lee Grant, herself, was the one to finally convince Bea to do the intimate portrait!! They have interviewed Bea, her sons, Rue, Bill Macy, Conrad Bain, George Swatter (?), Paul Witt (executive producer of the Golden Girls), and Norman Lear.

Kev!

andthentheresbea : Messages : 1509-1538 of 3145

we've had some exciting news lately...the intimate portrait...the tv rates. I noticed though that your post said "featuring" The Golden Girls. Kevin, is this episode just about the Golden Girls? I didn't know what to expect. We've never really seen much behind-the-scenes info about GG, so I didn't know how much they're willing to show us. If it's "featuring" the GG's, to me that could have implied that other shows will be featured as well. I'm crossing my fingers that it's just GG.
Thanks,
Chris
