Greetings and hello all.

My name is Mark and I am writing to tell you a little story about my friend Barbara and a special request she made to me for her birthday this year...

Barbara Bayne is the 59 year old sister in law to my best friend Robin who I met in flight attendant ground school 2 years ago. Barbara is a very special lady who when she was a small girl of about ten, fell off of a slide at school. She suffered brain damage and never progressed mentally past the age of ten. I asked Barbara what she wanted for her big 60th birthday coming up this April 3, 2006 and she told me that she wanted to visit Dorothy, Rose, Blanche and Sophia at their house in Miami. It took me a moment to realize that she was talking about The Golden Girls and you can imagine how amused I was at the prospect of such a request and how saddened I was about the reality of not being able to fulfill it. I asked her why she wanted that for her birthday and she simply told me that she wanted to spend her birthday with her girlfriends from the tv. I sometimes spend a night or two a week with Barbara and the rest of the family and every single night Barbara asks me to watch tv with her and of course it always has to be the Lifetime channel and the back to back episodes of The Golden Girls. I have to admit that I have always been a fan of the show but to Barbara it is more than tv. She really believes that there is a house in Miami where these four women live. What do I do? Tell her the truth? I doubt she would believe me. Maybe if anyone knows where I can get a few autographed/or not, pictures of the cast members I could put them into a birthday card for her and tell her that they couldn't come to her party because they have to make the tv show? Could anyone help me out with that? Any information I could get on finding photos would be greatly appreciated. I just checked ebay and couldn't find any. Any thoughts or ideas? Thanks for any help in advance!

Barbara sounds like a very special friend. Perhaps there is an elderly care home where you can take her and "fool" her into believing they are the Golden Girls that she so much wants to meet. It's a long-shot, but it just might work...My only worry is trying to find someone in an elderly home that is so tall and energetic like my gal BEA.

Good Luck Mark!

Dear Bea,

I was born in 1968 so I grew up watching your shows in their infancy and beyond. As a teen, I watched the Golden Girls as well. I still think you were the funniest lady on TV.

I know I will probably never get a chance to meet you in person but I just simply wanted to say Thank you!

Thank you for having the wonderful comedic personality dynamics that you used when you brought both Maude and Dorothy to life...and did it so well I might add!

You are a life force of funny that helped not only me but also so many others whos lives were, at times, not all that funny in the 70's and 80's.

You'll always "Bea" one of the most extraordinary women of laugh that has ever been. When ever I'm mad and slam a door (one of your signatures) I always think of you.

Thank you very much. In the crown of TV Comedy History, you will be one of its cullinan diamonds !

Hi Mark,

I can certainly understand and empathize with the situation you're faced with; You're both obviously very special people!

I was very touched by the story about your friend and your quest for her birthday and devotion to her so, I did some quick research and found a color signed photo of Bea, Rue, Betty, & Estelle available and purchased it in an online auction for you today.

It should be sent out to me within the next week; if you would be so kind as to send me your address, I'll send it to you as soon as I receive it. I truly hope this helps, please think of it as my birthday contribution to Barbara; mine is April 3rd too!

Take care,
 Tim

Hi everyone. I just wanted to write a quick line or two to say thank you for all of the great ideas and positive responses to my request. I have always shyed away from posting messages in the groups for it seems that things get misconstrued and people just misunderstand and before you know it there are just pages and pages of bickering back and forth. I'm glad to see that's not a problem here in this group. You all take care and thank you again for the kind thoughts and words. -A very special thank you to Tim as well! -I have to run for now. I have found a Golden Girls dvd set on ebay I'm trying to bid on for Barbara. -Take care all! -Mark

Hello Tim. Wow... I don't know what to say...How very kind of you to help me out with my delima. Barbara is going to be so happy! I don't even know where to begin in thanking you for you kindness. Bless you!!! I just got home from driving Barbara to the local Dollar Tree store. She likes to go shopping there with the money she finds and collects from under the sofa cushions. I have accidentally of course, lost a small fortune under those cushions over the last two years. Our weekend routine is for me to sneak down stairs and hide a few dollars in the sofa and then wait for her to come ask me to drive her to the dollar store when she has completed the shakedown of the furnishings. You know one day we were sitting at the dinning room table coloring and drawing and I noticed she didn't have her false teeth in so I asked her where her dentures were. Well of course she informed me that she had put them underneath her pillow in hopes that the Tooth Fairy would come and leave her enough cash to buy the new Dora the explorer doll that she had seen at the dollar store. I was completely dumbfounded at her seriousness about the whole thing. She said that she had been doing it all week but each morning there was no money and that she thought that we should maybe call the president (J.F. Kennedy) and ask if the Tooth Fairy was sick or on vacation. Of course I told her that I would call the president and find out what was amiss. After pretending to dail the phone and making out like I was talking to the president I hung up and told her that the Tooth Fairy had run off with the Easter Bunny and they were getting married in Las Vegas! Barbara just didn't know what to say at that point. She wasn't concerned with the prospect of the Tooth Fairy quitting her job, her one and only question was would their children have wings or fur! -I told her that she was the craziest loon I knew and that I loved her. Then I told her that I was just pulling her leg and that the Tooth Fairy was running late and that she would come tonight. Well to bring the story to a close, Barbara didn't buy the Dora doll like she had planned. She gave half of her tooth money to the Sunday School offering and opted for the less expensive Dora night light. Barbara is truly the purest and most special person I have ever met. We both thank you Tim -

Hello,

I'm fortunate to be going to see Bea's show this coming Friday (2/17) at the El Portal Theater. I will also be attending the Museum of Television and Radio Golden Girls panel discussion in March.

Like all of you, I'm a huge fan of Ms. Arthur, and also of Betty White.

I'm hoping to have the chance to meet Ms. Arthur after the show at the El Portal and the cast and creative team of Golden Girls who will be present at the MTRV event in March.

I am trying to find a resource for 8x10 photos of both Bea and the Golden Girls cast to obtain autographs. This is particularly important because I hope to auction them off to raise funds for the Avon Breast Cancer walk I will be doing in Long Beach later this year.

Does anyone know of a shop/resource to purchase 8x10 stills? I'm local in L.A., so going to a shop in Hollywood, etc. is completely "doable."

Thanks for considering!

Debbie,

I'd love to join you there, but I'm in Texas...a gazillion miles from where you are. If you don't manage to hook up with any Bea fans before the show, perhaps you can find some once you get to the theatre.

Bea came to the Lone Star State on two occasions in 2001, and I was lucky enough to see her show three times: twice in Austin and again in Galveston several months later. Although the show you'll be seeing in Scottsdale is basically the same as the one I saw in Texas, it's changed quite a bit over the years. So, you'll just have to tell us all about your evening with Bea.

Hi all ::

I think Ironicwit asked where all the people lately have come from! Well, I have shut down the 'BeaBoard' on the web site because it never really took off... which is fine with me... so I have routed people back to the good ole Yahoo group that has been around for 5+ years. So that is why there has been more traffic. Plus, I rather people chat with other Bea fans to help answer each other's questions, as I have fallen behind on emails and the sort due to other things going on in my personal life. Great to see a continuing interest though!

I'm (we) are always interested in hearing your stories of the shows that you have or will be going to, so please post on here!

I hope to be able to go through and catch up on things soon... but probably still be a while.
 So, just wanted to check in and say hi!

Take care all!
 Kev!

Debbie,

It's great to see one of my fellow Texans on the board...even if you've become a transplanted Arizonan. It's been eons since I've set foot in the Alamo City. As a child, I went there quite a bit to visit kinfolk. I also wound up going to school there.

It's amazing how big the city's gotten. This morning's newspaper had an insert promoting San Antonio (can spring break be too far off?), and I couldn't believe how many tourist attractions have popped up in recent years!

I was wondering if anyone knew if there is a way to somehow meet Bea after her performance. She is such an amazing person and entertainer, I would just love the opportunity to see her and maybe even get a photo taken with her!

Hello, all!

Today's matinee of Bea's One Woman Show, was, in a word.....devine! This was the 3rd time that I have seen the show. The first time was when the tour first started a few years back in Thousand Oaks, California, at The Thousand Oaks Performing Arts Center. Then I saw it again 1 & 1/2 years at The El Portal Theatre in N Hollywood, CA.....where I saw it today.

The El Portal Theatre was built as a Vaudeville House in the 20's and then later turned into a movie theatre. The theatre went into disrepair after the 1994 Northridge Earthquake and has since been restored to a legitimate theatre.

It was posted on line that the performances at The El Portal were being filmed for a dvd release. There were no cameras in the theatre today. Perhaps it was filmed earlier this week during the Thurs, Fri or Sat shows.

Conrad Bain, Bea's co-star from "Maude," was in the audience this afternoon - 4th row center.

As the lights went down, Bea walked out on stage to huge applause, introduces Billy Goldenberg, and the show begins. I have the cd of the show that came out a few years ago. Since the cd is edited for time constraints, it's so nice to hear and see the show in it's complete entirety.

It's changed a bit from the 3 times that I've seen it. The first time in Thousand Oaks, there was no intermission. 1 & 1/2 years ago at The El Portal, there was an intermission. At this performance there was no intermission.

Since the Mae West story isn't on the cd, it was nice to hear it again, and to see Bea imitate Mae West....looking up at her. Very, very funny. Perhaps the funniest part of the show is when she is saying that many people asked her why she would do a 1 woman show when there we so many parts out there for a woman her age! Ha,ha..

My favorite part of the show is the song that she sings about owning a 2nd hand furniture store. Hysterical!! Her "twist" on the words in the song is wonderful!

Her timing and delivery is impectable. When she tells of her stories and experiences, it's as if she is telling them for the first time. She's so excited to tell us, the audience, all the amazing people that she has met or worked with.

The moment she mentions Lotte Lenya from "The Three Penny Opera," her eyes instantly well up with tears. It's very obvious that Bea adored and respected that woman. Her memories of that show, bring her the most joy!

She also sang "If He Walked Into My Life Today" from "Mame." Her performance was extraordinary! I'm sure she would have killed to have played the part of Mame Dennis in "Mame" instead of Vera Charles.

Her stories of her audition singing "Summer Time," Jerome Robbins, Tony Curtis, "Maude," Tallulah Bankhead and others are so fresh and detailed in her memory, it's as if it just happened.

Today's performance was sold out. The theatre was selling "overflow" seating.....the top section of the balcony had folding chairs to see the show.

A screaming, standing ovation closed the show. The audience roared with laughter when she announced that she was NOT going to sing "I'm Still Here." She closed the show with "The Man On The Moon" from "Mame."

One thing that was so nice was that Bea completely shared the stage with her pianist Billy Goldenberg. She constantly spoke to him, acknowledged him and thanked him. Many artists don't do that. Sure, they will thank them near the end of the show. But, he was featured CONSTANTLY! Which is a very nice thing for her to have done.

Well, that's about it. I certainly hope that a dvd of the show comes out. The theatre was selling autographed cd's of the show in the lobby.

Thanks for reading.

Neal

Hey Neal,

I'm glad to hear that you had such a great time! Although, I don't think anyone would think any different when Bea's invovled! How much were the autographed Bea CDs? Like I've said before, I'm seeing her next month and since I don't have her autograph or the show CD, I'd love to buy a copy! Thanks again for sharing your great review!

The CD's that are autographed are available AFTER the show in the lobby and are signed by Bea Arthur and her pianist, Billy Goldenberg. They are $20. Good value! Enjoy the show!

Very Cool! I so wish that Bea was doing a show in Minneapolis...the last time she was here, she fell off the stage...not a 'good thing'. :(
