Hey all- wondered if someone here could help. I'm writing a biography of a musician who, as it happened, wrote or co-wrote an episode of "Maude," though he seems not to be credited by name. I know that it concerned a '70s self-help fad called "Est" or Erhard Seminar Training. Any memories of the show, thoughts on which season it was in, etc., would be great! jonathan poletti

Hi,
It's a treasure.
Bea is really an intelligent and special actress.
It was a nice opportunity to get to know Bea much more
Thank you.

I've looked everywhere I know to look on the web and haven't been able to find an answer. I am pretty confident that I saw Bea in a tv movie about a single widow and her new man friend in a beach town - probably in about 1992-1995? It was wonderful and I wonder if anyone knows what the title was? Am I dreaming? Thanks for your input!

If I'm not mistaking, it's called "My First Love", made in 1988. Bea plays the role of a widow, falling back in love with her once boyfriend in high school.

Hi!

I have been a fervent, loyal fan of Miss Arthur' s since my first introduction to her as THE GREATEAST STAR OF THE STAGE, Vera Charles in "Mame". It was a night of nights, believe me! For a graduation present, I could pick out what I wanted and I wanted a Broadway show, at night, sitting down (I used to sneak and get to matinees when that was still fashionable) and, as I had graduated with honors, I got to see "Mame" and not only was The Wonderful Angela Lansbury a revelation in the role of Mame Dennis, I "discovered" a gem in the guise of Miss Arthur and the love-affair was on! She was a dead-on comic with style and flair, more than a match for the star (great that they're Buds, Huh?) and a sheer delight from start to finish! And, her going on to star in one of my fave sitcoms (her "guest appearance really") "All In The Family" was a wonder! What better foil for Archie than Maude!

Then there was "The Golden Girls"

It went from the start, to me at least, like a fine-tuned watch, all of the ladies at the very top of their game with Dorothy/Bea, right there at the center almost and playing beautifully with her co-stars. By the time, I knew how generous she was with other players to say nothing of her fans even though she seems an intensely private person.

This isn't the place to do it, but I really do owe her a big beautiful fan letter to tell her how much I love and enjoy her work (I'm told I have her delivery with a "take") and she's simply wonderful!

Terrence,

That is wonderful to hear, and I bet Bea would love to hear it. I wrote her some fan mail, and received an autographed picture in reply. I suggest you write her, and let her know how wonderful you think she is. her address is: 2000 Old Ranch Rd., Los Angeles, CA 90049-2211

You may also request an autographed picture in your letter, and will probably receive it. but of course not positively.

Subject: Trying to obtain the extended lyrics to "Maude"

Hi --

This might sound crazy, but I know for a fact that there were extended lyrics to the "maude" theme. I heard them at the end of Bea Arthur's stage performance ("And then there's Bea," I think it was called). The 2nd set of lyrics included something about Annie Oakley. After the 2nd set, there was the "uncompromising,etc." list of adjectives that ends of opening credits of her show.

Does anyone know where to find these lyrics? I'd be happy just w/reading them. Hearing them would be great too.

I snail-mailed Bea Arthur w/a request for them when she was on Broadway and included a self-addressed, stamped envelope for her reply. She never answered me. Oh well. It was addressed to her and the address of the theater was correct, so I don't know what to make of that.

Again, suggestions? Thanks.

Hello All,

I am the high school teacher of a 15 year old student who just loves Bea Arthur's work. He is a piano prodigy whom is very eclectic in his tastes of music, movies, television shows, etc. He is absolutely distraught over Bea's death. I suggested writing a heartfelt letter to his family, telling them how much her worked meant to him in the hopes that it might fill the hole that he is feeling inside and was wondering if anyone had an address where a letter could be sent to her family.

If there is an address of an agent or her estate where such a letter could be sent, I would appreciate it greatly. Thank you in advance for your help.

Hello All,

I am the high school teacher of a 15 year old student who just loves Bea Arthur's work. He is a piano prodigy whom is very eclectic in his tastes of music, movies, television shows, etc. He is absolutely distraught over Bea's death. I suggested writing a heartfelt letter to his family, telling them how much her worked meant to him in the hopes that it might fill the hole that he is feeling inside and was wondering if anyone had an address where a letter could be sent to her family.

If there is an address of an agent or her estate where such a letter could be sent, I would appreciate it greatly. Thank you in advance for your help.

Rob

I am a fan of outq the gay/lesbian station on Sirius. Bea was an icon of the gay community and the morning show is talking about here right now.

She was on Frank DeCaros show many times and he was the one that wrote the review for the new york times on the DVD release of Maude a couple years ago when it came out on DVD.

They are talking about Bea on the morning show right now and they are expecting Frank Decaro to dedicate part of his show to Bea since she was on his show a lot and he is a big admirer of Bea.

His show is on at 10 a.m. EST on sirius channel 109. It is also on XM but I am not sure of the channel (I think it's either 89 or 98).

HI,
 First of all I would like to say how saddened I am of Bea's passing. She was a great lady and so very talented! I will really miss her and have been a fan of hers since I was a child. She will always be my favorite Golden Girl. I love that show!

I just joined this group today and look forward to communicating with other Bea Arthur fans too.

I was so sad when I read that headline on Saturday. I truly loved her work. I am so grateful that I had the opportunity to see her one-woman show twice (once in Thousand Oaks and once in New York), that I got to meet her in 2001, and that she was gracious enough to write me 3 times.

She will definitely be missed - but never forgotten.

We love you Bea!!
 xoxo

Frank Decaro is going to spend the last hour of his show today doing a tribute to Bea. It should be on around 1:05 PM today on Sirius 109. The show is also on XM but am not sure of the station number (it's outq).

They typically repeat Frank's show at 10 p.m. so it will probably reair around midnight as well.

It should be a great hour. Frank reviewed Maude Season One on DVD for the NY Times and she was a guest on his show many times.

Anyone with Sirius or XM HAS to listen to this show if you are a fan of Bea's. I am listening to it right now and they just did an interview with someone that wrote a book about the golden girls that got to interview her.

If you google franks name it is possible he has his show on his site also.
