Here's another venue for the tour:
the State Theatre in Easton, Pennsylvania on November 6.

http://www.statetheatre.org/schedule.htm

Her appearance there comes two days after she goes to the Kirby Center in Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania.

Subject: Revised Tour Schedule

This is all getting so confusing that I decided to compile a revised schedule for the rest of the tour. It's based on the official schedule as well as a number of other online sources. So it's not guaranteed to be 100% accurate. Also, there seem to be some big gaps in September and October, so I suspect that some other cities may have already been added to the lineup, but I don't know what they are.

July 25-29 - Nyack, NY
July 31-Aug. 5 - Raleigh, NC
Aug. 7-19 - Ft. Lauderdale, FL
Aug. 22-26 - San Francisco, CA
Sept. 7 - Owensboro, KY
Sept 8-9 - Indianapolis
Sept. 21-22 - St. Louis
Oct. 23-28 - Tampa, FL
Nov. 4 - Wilkes-Barre, PA
Nov. 6 - Easton, PA
Nov. 8 - Lakeland, FL
Nov. 10-11 - Galveston, TX
Dec. 11-23 - West Palm, FL
Dec. 26-29 - Thousand Oaks, CA
Jan. 2-6, 2002 - Phoenix

Oops! I guess that I need to add the Warner Theatre in Washington, DC (Oct. 2-7). The theatre's web site still doesn't list the show, so I cannot confirm that it's still on. However, I just read that just somebody received a not-so-up-to-date schedule from a road guy with the tour a few days ago, and it included the Warner. <http://www.warnertheatre.com/>

Hi Friends,
 Sorry, I have been gone in Los Angeles for a week, and it was just GREAT! I got to talk to Betty White on the phone, it was fabulous! Anyways, I was just reading through the posts, and I just thought I would reply to several things in one post...Here it goes...

 I totally agree about the kids thing, Even though, that I am 12, and would love love love to see Bea do her tour, It's a good chance that -18 year olds may not be allowed. From what I have read and been told, ...And Then There's Bea is a show where you will piss your self laughing because of the 'dirty' jokes she's made. I just hope all of the youngsters that are going know enough to understand...Fourtantly, most kids these days know more than some adults- At least I do...ROTFLMAO! Anyways, I hope all the youngsters get to go!

 I also wanted to reply about believe stuff on the net--DONT!!! Most people get screwed over on the net because people make up rumors, and then get bad reputations--(I.E.- Bea and Betty...People said there was a feud, but there never was...) I think it's funny what some people write, but then, if you have the right mind, you will laugh until you piss, and not take it seriously!

Anyways, just my veiw on subjects...

WE LOVE BEA!

Lauren

Erika,

You have to be careful about what you read and see on the Internet. I work for an Internet company and because things are not monitored people write and say anything. Usually the club creators disbar members who use foul language, etc., but this is very hard to traffic. Bea Arthur does not deserve the rap she gets in some of these sites - people are just mean and crude - it is because she is a private person and does not give out much personal information that rumours get started - don't believe them - I have to give her credit for wanting to keep some things personal -just elevates her in my book.

By the way she is very shy and her behavior is more like Dorothy than Maude - she is just a nice person.

Am going to see her in New York on July 28 and July 29 - if you go hope you enjoy her.

This is a link to a nice interview that was done for the "Texas Triangle" before "...And Then There's Bea" travelled to Austin, Texas.

<http://www.txtriangle.com/archive/936/coverstory.htm>
<http://www.txtriangle.com/archive/936/coverstory.htm>

Here's a short interview in SFX.com.

<http://sfx.com/InsideScoopStory.asp?artistID=21534&docID=1983>
<http://sfx.com/InsideScoopStory.asp?artistID=21534&docID=1983>

Here are three ticket-related links. The first two are for Ticketmaster. You get different results depending on how you search (i.e., "bea arthur" or "then there's bea" or "then theres bea"); that's why I'm posting two different links for Ticketmaster. The third link is for Tickets.com, which apparently is handling tickets for San Francisco and Phoenix.

Ticketmaster (1):

<http://www.tickets.com/search.cgi?by=event&Query=then+there%27s+bea>

Just so you'll know, Ticketmaster and Tickets.com aren't necessarily selling tickets for all venues. When I got mine for the Austin show, I had to order them through a regional ticket outlet.

If any of you have met Bea in person during her current tour of "... And Then There's Bea," I'd sure appreciate your sharing your experience with me. Her show will play here (St. Louis) in September, and I am writing to her at every theatre she is playing between now and then, hoping to arrange to meet her. This lady is absolutely one of my very favorite performers. I'm a little older than most of you -- I was a fan of hers BEFORE "Maude," when she was the hilarious lush Vera Charles, with Angela Lansbury in MAME on Broadway, back in 1966. Of course I will see her show, but I also hope to meet and speak with her, too. If any of you have been able to accomplish this, please let me know !

Hey... you'll be happy to know that there are a few people in here that have met Bea on her tour. I was lucky to meet her and see her again a few other times. If you want, go to my web site and read about it.

www.beatricearthur.com

then click on 'news'... thats where i get a little too excited when i finally met Bea.

Hope you get to meet her too! Good luck.

Once it gets a little closer to show time, why don't you phone The Pageant and ask if there's to be any sort of "meet 'n' greet"? The Paramount Theatre in Austin held a brief reception (for subscribers?) on opening night. Other venues may be doing the same thing as well.

Yeah, I hope you get to meet Bea too. It's a real thrill. I saw her twice in Chicago and on the second night, after the show, some of us waited for her at her trailer and she signed a program for me and I talked to her. She was so sweet and so nice.
I live in Springfield so I'm hoping to see her again in St. Louis! Maybe I'll see you there!!

I am going in 8 and 9 days (next Saturday and Sunday)

Kevin--

I noticed that you don't have venues for Owensboro, Wilkes-Barre, and Easton, so I thought that I should post the tour schedule again -- this time with venues and URLs. There appear to be a couple of minor venue changes for Tampa and Thousand Oaks. Also, I'm still wondering about the shows in Indy and Washington, DC. It seems as though their web sites should have something by now.
