Well, it seems that reality is slowly setting in. I don't think I will be able to go to New York as planned either. I would love to see Bea perform again. And the thought of maybe getting to meet her really appeals to me. But, it seems that more money goes out than comes in these days.

Oh well, I guess I always have Galveston.

At the moment, I know, it doesn't look as if very many of us will actually be able to see Bea on the Great White Way. But, I thought I should go ahead and post this information anyway.

Earlier today, one of the posters at the Talkinbroadway message board posted the discount code for Bea's show (it's BAEML46). Supposedly, if you use the code at Telecharge or at <http://www.broadwayoffers.com/>, you can get $65 tickets for $50 (except for Saturday night performances).

Thanks to IronicWit for the information on the Discount Code - because of this I was able to afford to purchase another ticket for Bea's show for the Wednesday, 1/30/02 matinee - front row again - third seat!

I had been reading over messages here and on Bea Arthur in the Limelight of folks who went to her show more than twice to see if there was a difference in her performances. I figured I would do the same. I also did not want to wait until February. I am definitely not a winter person and winters in the east can be rough so this gives me something to look forward to.

I am now going at the beginning of the tour (1/30), the middle (2/10) and the end (3/2). I figure at least a two week interval is good - although I could never get tired of seeing her perform live. At least I got my husband to go with me once - he has never been a Bea fan but is going to please me.

Thank you again to ironicwit.

Maribeth

Good luck to all who get tickets - also please post as to the dates you go and if they are the same, maybe we can get together in the lobby beforehand and plan how we are going to meet Bea after the show.

Maribeth, I'm so glad that you were able to use the discount code. I just wish that I had heard about it sooner (how do people find out about these things in the first place -- are they on a special mailing list?).

I still can't believe your good luck in always getting front-row seats. That was a feat I was never able to manage here in Texas (probably because the front rows were filled with subscribers, and we out-of-towners simply had to hope for the best).

Not so sure it was luck - two out of the three are matinees and these tickets are usually easier to obtain. I think I got the good seats for the Saturday performance in March because I purchased them right after they went on sale. From what I can see from Telecharge the performances are filling up

I just added something to the Photos section (under Bea on Broadway). It's a banner ad for "Just Between Friends." I just saw it at the TalkinBroadway message board, and I figured that the Telecharge folks wouldn't mind if I copied it for her other fans' viewing enjoyment.

Hey all. Just wanted to know if you all caught the little clip of Bea last night on SNL. There was a skit involving host Ellen DeGeneres where she is receiving an award from a powerful lesbian ssociaton. They did a pan to audience members and they showed a close up of Bea. Of course we know she is not a lesbian but, I did find it funny! I belive the clip they used of Bea in the audience was from The Comedy Central Friar Roast of Jerry Stiller. Looks like Bea is everywhere lately!

I saw the clip, too. Funny, but I never watch SNL. Last night, however, I did tune in because I wanted to see Ellen. So, it sure was nice that I got a little "bonus" for watching. By the way, the bespectacled, blond fellow standing at the podium was comedy writer Bruce Vilanch. I couldn't understand the comment he made before Bea was shown shaking her finger at him. Do you know what he said?

Hi Everyone--

 I just wanted to post and say that, I finally got around to renting and watching MAME, and I absolutey loved it! Bea looked really good, and boy can she sing! She's excellent! I think MAME is one of my favorite movies, just the relationship between her and Lucille in the movie is just wonderful. Does anyone know if you can get the soundtrack to Lucy's MAME or Angela's MAME? One of my friends has Lucy's MAME soundtrack, and I would like to have it, to listen to our BEA-loved star sing!

Thanks,
Lauren

I plan on watching Mame over winter break. When I worked at a video store last summer, I could bring home movies for free. I brought home Mame, but I never got around to watching it. However, I'll be working there again for a couple weeks over break and fully intend to bring it home AND watch it!

I'm going to have to watch for that particular episode of SNL. A lot of times, they show reruns of episodes.

About what that guy said about Bea.....it's nasty so prepare yourself. And I hate to repeat this. He said "I wouldn't f*##% Sandra Bernhardt with Bea Arthur's d%*k." I think that calls for a little finger shaking!!!

I'm familiar with the horrible joke that Jeffrey Ross aimed at Bea during the Jerry Stiller Roast. However, I couldn't understand what Bruce Vilanch said during the Ellen/Mango skit on SNL.

I've seen the original Jerry Stiller Roast from which that clip was taken - I just thought it was in bad taste to do that to her and I don't think she appreciated it either.

If anyone plans on buying a Mame soundtrack, let me give you this piece of advice. The soundtrack with Bea and Angela Lansbury in much better. Those two harmonize better.

I recently bought it, I think from Barnes and Nobles. It is not hard to come by!

I would have to agree, you would be doing your self a great injustice by not obtaining the original "Mame", soundtrack. You will quickily see why Angela Lansbury should have done the film and not Lucy. Plus the chemistry between Bea and Angie is divine!

I was lucky enough to find it at my local Best Buy. If they don't have it in stock, you can always inquire about special ordering it. Actually, go to bestbuy.com, and you should find it there. Or sometimes you can even get lucky with eBay.

Good luck!

Lauren,

Try CDNow or Amazon.com - they both offer CDs for less than they are in the stores. I had the MAME cassette and purchased the MAME CD, Threepenny Opera and Fiddler on the Roof from CDNow right after I saw Bea in July.

Thanks so much for the information-- I will try those websites provided. I just really love MAME, not only BEA-Cause Bea's in it, but, it's a GREAT movie! I love the songs too! I really liked it when 'Vera' said to 'Mame' "The Woman (or Man) in the Moon is a bitch!" Haha!

I was listening to a local radio station here, and they always have a 7:15 AM trivia question, and for tomorrow, the question is, "What 1974 movie, that was a Broadway hit, gave us "We Need a Little Christmas" song?" I yelled "MAME!!!!!"

Can you tell I love this movie?!! Haha!

Just in case everyone's too busy during the holidays to check in very often, I figure that I should post these now.

December 27 - "All in the Family" (episode "Maude") - 12:00 am (EDT)

January 1 - "Maude" (episode "Maude's Problem") - 4:30 pm (EDT)

Both will be shown on TVLand.

Do you know what the episode "Maude's Problem" is about? Is that the one where Maude finds out she's pregnant? I got my uncle to start taping the show for me shortly before it was cancelled (unfortunately, I don't get TV Land at home or at school) but I only got about a dozen episodes. So needless to say, I'm glad that TV Land is still showing some episodes sporadically, and I hope they continue to do so. That way at least over time I can slowly build up my collection a little. The ep title "Maude's Problem" sounds so familiar, but at the same time, I'm thinking that's one I missed.

Katie, "Maude's Problem" is episode #1 and it's about Maude finding out that Carol is seeing a psychiatrist. The abortion/pregnancy episodes are called "Maude's Dilemma."

Here's a little more info about the upcoming "Golden Girls" marathon.

Arthur has agreed to host a marathon of her favorite episodes from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 21. Arthur's participation in the marathon is especially appealing news to diehard fans: She's the lone holdout when it comes to a reunion."

(I wonder if the times are right. Wouldn't you think the marathon would be shown at night -- perhaps from 9 p.m. till 12:30 a.m.?)

If you're really a fan of the Girls, you'll probably enjoy reading the article from which the quote above was taken.
