Remember folks that radio stations all across the US will be broadcasting a two hour show with Bea Arthur. Now, if you are like me and don't get any of the stations listed, no fear. Here are the three that you can listen to via the internet.

http://www.am1230koy.com

http://www.960kab1.com

http://www.wlux.com * worked the best for me!

Be sure to catch the times and don't forget to tune in.

Times are at:

 I suspect that we'll see some photos from the celebration at Playbill.com and/or Broadway.com within the next few days.

That sounds like you had a grand time. I wish I could make it to see her perform, it would be a nicely thing. I have to post I am very excited lately since Monday I recieved a letter from Ms. Betty White. She was thanking me for the 2 gifts I gave her for her birthday. I hope one day to get either a pic or letter from Ms. Bea. That would be grand too.

The best Bea pictures I've ever seen. I love them. I'm definitely getting this magazine when I move to New York City tomorrow? She's on the fricken cover :)

It's SO Bea Arthur meets Andy Warhol.

Oops! It looks like the cover has already changed. So Bea must have been on the cover of last week's magazine, not this week's. My apologies for not making this discovery a few days sooner.

0'well we'll see. I emailed them to see if they would send me an issue for an exchange of a permanent web link to their web site.

Take care,

- False alarm -- they must have uploaded the new cover photo and feature last night. I saw two different cover photos because the changes hadn't replicated across all servers. Oh well, at least I know I haven't been remiss in my "duties."

Subject: Radio Ga Ga
- Well devoted Bea fans. I set the alarm early this morning to get up and listen to and record Bea on Broadways Biggest Hits show via WKOY radio in Phoenix today. And guess what I found out... they blocked it from their Internet stream. They are run by a service called Clear Channel, which can block copyright advertising and programming. So, I decided to find other stations that were running the show, when I found out something else. Most of the radio stations that are listed are also run by the same service. They all have the same top navigation, same media player module, and are all run by Clear Channel. My hopes are diminishing :

On a happier note, there may be one more chance. WLUX in New York, doesn't seem to be run by Clear Channel. Though their audio quality isn't as good, it could be the only opportunity to listen to the show. But, I won't know until they air the show, which is tomorrow (Sunday) at 5-7pm eastern. So, I'll give it a shot and keep my fingers crossed!

Always something, huh! Today, I'm ordering Bea's CD... can't wait!

Kev!

Kevin, have you checked WDRC? It's based in Connecticut and is not a Clear Channel station. According to the "Broadway's Biggest Hits" site, the program airs Sunday mornings from 9-11.

A few minutes ago, while checking out WLUX, I heard Bud Wilkinson's radio spot for the show with Bea. As expected, the promo mentioned that the show would start at 5 p.m. (ET) Sunday.

I'm keepin' my hopes up that we'll all be able to hear the show okay. With luck, net congestion will be down, thanks to the Super Bowl.

- This may be yet another false alarm. But because I just found out about it, there's not enough time for me to confirm the information before posting it. Anyway, a friend just heard an announcement on CBS that Bea would be a guest on their news show tomorrow morning. Doggone it, my local CBS affiliate doesn't carry the "CBS News Sunday Morning," so I can't tape it, but maybe y'all can!
